THE SUMMER MANEUVERS.

Say Francisco July 4—General Miles, commanding the Division of the Factic, with headquarters here had made quite extensive plans for the summer maneuvers of the troops for this coast but it is now an derstood that the war department has requested him to modify and simplify the I lans so as to reduce the expenses.

We publish in full this morning the ad-iress of Captain Woodruff, U. S. A., delivered on Wednesday before the State Teachers' Association at Salem, because it disers. Association at smean, because it dis-cusses a subject of vast consequence to the state and the nation, viz., the responsibility of the public schools for the patriotic edustion of their pupils. A distinguishel sol-lier, now an eminent judge of the supreme testurg, where he commanded a regiment f Stannard's brigade, in a recent address elivered at the dedication of Stannard's accountent, said: "The true history of the books in the hands of our children. , and you will find it difficult lotell mard fought on the right or the wrong side. oka are a disgrace to our country." ne of Appleton's Readers and kinchool books and historica publisher e that could be construed as a reof these great booksellers was a subof all patriotic matter relating to aders were first published they contained Gettysburg speech and Henry legue verses in memory of the stery of Charleston, S. C. The compiler of render evidently thought at first that Lincoln's Gettysburg speech would please lie Union veterans and would not seriously affend the South, while Timred's ode to the inrefuening brave of South Carolina would while Timrod's ode was retained. A gentle was clear from the excision of Lincoln's ch that the South did not want their kindred text books are not colorless, but tel school to an admiration of the decits of her ry and approval of the purpose and of or rebellion. The South has always bliged to confess that so far as the text Webster, Clay and Jackson concerning the manchity of the Union and in denunciation of the destructive, disintegrating doctrine diffical and social revolution that has taken glace since the English revolution of 3640.

Mr. Fiske did not add a single fact or idea to the knowledge or thought of any man wall'informed in the Union and Confederate official and unofficial history of the war; he even enunciated some grossly shourd statements, like those in which he blamed Helleck and Lincoln for ordering the function of the armine of McClelleand ction of the armies of McClellan and unti the mudde of August. But, despite the fact that Fiske's lectures contained nothing fracthat was new and nothing new that was true, they excited great interest among young and old, simply because the young had learned little or nothing of the war from their school books, and the old were too bray to read the history of the greatest want that ever hancemed since the foundations of the sendant want that ever hancemed since the foundations. great that ever happened since the foundation of this republic. Our attention is called to an error in Mr.

railes from the Rappahamack. Jackson made his attack in the evening, and the fact that General Stevens was forced by the sudthat General Stevens was forced by the sou-den emergency to lead his division to the charge, joined to the severe loss suffered, shows it was no "skirmish." It was extra-ordinary peril that made Stevens expose himself so recklessly, and he fell while renimself so recklessly, and he fell while ren-dering the greatest service of his military career, for the line of battle he organized re-pulsed Jackson, forcing him to leave his killed and wounded within the Union lines,

It is apparent that Mr. James Lotan, fire Atts apparent that one of the commissioner and general boss, has secured a "corner" on the commor conneil. This fact became manifest through the proceedings on Wednesday night, and it is the inings on Wednesday ingle, and it is become in-terpretation thereof.

Admitting that Mr. Lotar has become in-dispensable to the city, the question nat-turally arises. How would the city get on if he were called to pay the debt of nature? Life is always uncertain, and when a man has become indispensable to the state his health naturally becomes an object of deepest public solicitude.

Atter Sancho Panza had become governor of Barmaria and exhibited his great quali-ties as a ruler, his people saw at once that as the state couldn't do without him the pre-servation of his bentth was a matter of the greatest concern. So a physician was ap-pointed who presided over the table of his excellency, prescribed his ways of life to the minutest particulars, and held him under regimen so severe that poor Sancho repented the hour that he ever became so necessary to the state. At last Sancho was willing to resign, simply that he might be allowed to resign, snapiy into he might end and drink.

Now we think that the natural interest of the people of Portland in this health of Mr.

Lounn is as great as was that of the people of Baratarie in the health of Saincho Panza. The etty, therefore, should appoint and pay a physician to look after Mr. Lotan's health and habits, to prescribe his dict, to see that he drinks no bad whisky, and to preserve in vigor and usefulness the life that has come indispensable to the city of Portland. It is surprising that some one of the five members of the common council didn't think of this on the night of the last meet ling. Knowing as well as they appear to, know that there is no man in the city tu:

Lotan who is capable of 'rendering the ines-timatic public services that he performs, their carelessness in this matter is amazing. And further, since there is no man who is capable of being police commissioner but Mr. Joseph Simon, the city raight also with are a propriety appoint a physician to this gentleman. How to preserve the lives that are indi-pensable to the city, is the problem that should take precedence of all others. Only, since our two bosses are rivals, it for one have an opportunity to prescribe for see the two rulers of our city, put under as close regimen as Sancho was, with the idea probable or possible way of ever being rid in them. It is even binted that there are men in the city who don't acknowledge the bosship either of Lotan or Simon. But this is plainty the voice of sedition. Moreover, behold in the present arrangement a beautiowed the other as a counterpoise; hence a verse. It would be more malevolence and "cussedness" to distarb it. Let us have doctors, then, for both bosses and perpet-

than an aggravation to them. Inside views from Salt take City, among the upper class, mon class who live in the country and till will let them have, for it is a common joke among the "Gentiles" that the wives support the family. They go into the fields and work as they used to in their homes beyond way but they never will surrender their faith in polygamy. Ask them bow it can be sustained where men and women are born in parallel numbers and they will look at you blankly and quote the never-to-be-forgotten story of the patriarchs how Abraham and Isaze and Jacob had wives galore, and gotten story of the patriarchs, how Abraham and Isaac and Jacob had wives galore, and they want no better authority than the stories told of linese old Hebrews and of Solomon's place if possible, but that not being within possibilities they put up with what wives they can get.

Experience among Mormons is pitiful and one sickens at seeing and hearing of the atrocities permitted and committed. A Mormon woman was asked how daughters were induced to accept the position of plural wives; she was coolly told, as a matter of course, that young girls who proposed to be independent and marry as they preferred, were closely confined, and even beaten into compliance with the will of the parents. Mrs. Whinney, the elder's wife, who wrote a book to defend plural marriages, wakes the pity of all readers when she claims as a merit that they are laying up treasure elernal by the trials endured here in carrying out the true faith of the Latter Day Snints. Could . true faith of the Latter Day Saints. Could any thing be more pitflut than such a plea in defense of a living faith?

They all believe they are suffering perse-cution and are martyrs to their faith. In a sense they are sufferers. Politics in Idaho resemble politics everywhere, and men who do party work unst be rewarded. Such are unde deputy marshals and there is a con-stant state of warfare between Gentiles and Saints. There are many of those officers of the law who doubtless impose on the people to some extent, and use their offices to accomplish their own purposes. Many of those are no better if as good men as the ignorant "believers" they control. If such men represent the law then the Mormonis are obvioused, and such conversion is to be reoppressed, and such oppression is to be re-gretted as injurious in the extreme.

How to extirpate polygoning is a serious question. If there is nothing to feed on crime cannot grow. Mormonism is constantly fed by emigration. The emigrants brought from the old country are two to one women, from the old country are two to one women, and in this way the supply is kept up. Stop this supply and polygamy dies from want of food to sustain it. Two things are necessary: That emigration be stopped and that the young be educated. There are some schools in Salt Lake City, but more in remote country districts. Mormon leaders knew their stronghold is ignorance and superstition and do not support a good school system. The people are innorant and so provide the cure. The world never knew more diabolical atrocity than Mormonism undefiled. While the better class of demochance to rule, the greater number spure-ciate the fact that Mormons are naturally of their party and vole—the democratic tuket. That fact is an element of danger that is felt in congress, as well as among the demo

Shall Idaho become a state? Many who ive in Southern Id the and see the effect of Mormonism there say, "not yet." There is no occasion for haste, and whenever the time comes the matter should be well guarded and the rights and principles of good men protected by such previsions as shall effectually hold the great crit in check.

The school room is their only source of patriotism.

The teachers of our public schools must prepare this nughty army if it is to be prepared to properly discharge these duies and responsibilities.

The general government has donated millions of acres of the public domain for the education of the youth of our land yet the state schools, that received this bout ty, teach almost everything except a love of country and a knowledge of the dangers that constantly threaten the stability of a free government.

Our school children have an idea of the causes that led to the founding of the several colonies from which spring the United States they are conversant with the numer ons wars with the breich and Indians they know the principal evente of the revolution ary war but they have a very vague idea of the vongs upon which our forefulners based their right of revolution. The signers of the Declaration of Independence recogn is the fact that theirs was a knessnable not and stated that a decent respect to the opinion of mankind required that they should jut fift their action by giving the causes upon which it was based.

Appealing to the supreme judge of the world for the rectitude of their intentions they declared that these united colonies are and of right ought to be free and independent.

A consecration of this our first great state paper in its influence upon the world perhaps our greatest will stimulate our patronism and increase our love and respect for those who pledged their lives their for tunes and their sacred honor in its stupport. To a young lady daughter of an army of ficer and graduate of the Portland High school, is so far as! know due the honor in this centennial year of our government of introducing, on the Pacific coast the systematic teaching of patronism.

She had a private school of five hitle ones, between the ages of 6 and 11. Her method was to open school by reading a sentence from the Declaration of Independence, teaching the children respect for it, by having them stand during the reading, explain the sentence by some simple story illustrative of the main point or giving some his jorical fact to show why they said they should be free.

Then they all sung a verse or two of some song such as 'America,' Rally Around the Flag,' etc. The result was that the children became interested they never failed to be on hand at the opening of the school they understood the significance of the Fourth of July they wanted to know more about the men who risked so much for us wanted to know if President Harri son and General Sherman were related to the signifers who have their names, were anxious to study American history. In brief they loved their country because they had drank from one of its purcet foundams.

A consideration of this great state paper and what it cost to maintain it, in expreted as it should be by the light of all our experience will mike us more theroughly national in our ideas and better fitted to discharge our duties as citizens of this republic. We have passed 100 years under this constitution but to speak of the patriotic lessons inculcated by the words and deeds of the statesmen who framed it, while the eloquence of he who spoke where the cradle of this government was recked, and the noble words of those who in the me tropoils of the Northwest did honor to the occasion are still thundering in our ears would be for me a futile task.

The delineations of Washington's character were made with such masterly skill that replete us was his life with patriotic devotion to duty and much as there is in his career that appeals to our love and veneration it is needless for me to say more. A study of those historic sketches will make us more patriotic, therefore better citizens. It is onnecessary to review the war of 1812 further than to remerk that glorious as was the recould of ut navy and horore as was the career of most of our armies our historians generally give us all the honor to which we were entitled.

In your hands my dissatisfied fellow countrymen, and not in mine is the momentuous issue of civil war. The government will not assail you. You can have no conflict without being yourselves the aggressors. You have no cath registered in heaven to destroy the government while I shall have the most solemn one to preserve, protect and defend it.

The mystic chords of memory stretching from every bittlefield and patriot grive to every hving heart and hearthstone all over this broad land will yet swell the choius of the Urion when again touched, as surely they will be by the better angels of our nature.

And every heart not numbed by passion and prejudice beat stronger for the Union. In his second inaugiral address he said. Pondly do we hope fervently do we pray that this mightly securge of civil war may pass away. Yet if (cod wills that it continue until all the wealth piled by the bondsman's 250 years of unrequited toil shall be sunk, and until every drop of blood drawn by the lash shall be pand with another drawn with the sword as was said 8000 years ago so still it must be sund that the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

THE DEATH KNELL OF SLAVERY

THE DEATH ENELL OF SLAVERY
And the nation responded with a mighty 'Amen' that resounded all over our land and its echoes sent round the earth's electric circle a flash of light that sounded the death hell of slavery in all countries. Grant writing with the angel of death hovering over him, waiting until he had finished the simple record of his mighty deeds, says 'Secession was illogical us well as impracticable, it was revolution. The seceding states cried lightly 'Let us alone you have no constitutional power to interfere with us.' The fact is, the constitution did not apply to any such contingency as the one existing from 1861 to 1865. 'Its framers never dreamed of such a contingency occurring. They would surely have resisted secession could they have lived to see the shape it assumed."

Sherman as strategist and tactician one of the greatest perhaps the greatest of hy mig generals, said.

'I think my general opinions are well known and understood viz. That secession was treason was war.'

In tendering his resignation as superint tender of the Louisiana seminary he said. 'As I occupy a quasi military position under the laws of the state, I deem it proper to acquaint you that I accepted such position when Louisiana was atate of the Union, and when the motto of this seminary was inserted in marvie over the main door, By the Liberality of the General Government of the United States. 'I beg you to take immediate steps to relieve me as superintendent the moment the state determines to secede, for on no earthly account will I do any act or think any thought hossile to, or in defiance of the old government of the United States.

Of all the appropriation bills before the last session the one for the improvement of the Wallowa camyon was the most merito-ious, as this canyon for a distance of eight miles provides the only means of egress to a community of five thousand people.
